

Jennifer Indiveri

Educational Philosophy

My educational philosophy is one that emphasizes a strong sense of love and community in my students. I strive to provide a safe, nurturing, and supportive learning environment that empowers all students to reach their highest potential. I believe in the importance of building positive relationships with my students and I always take the time to understand their varying learning styles. It is important for our students to know that we truly value each and every one of them; we believe in their success and want them to grow as individuals.